Aff
[V] Societal Welfare
[C] Utilitarianism

Neg
[V] Morality
[C] Societal Welfa

The Neg did a phenomenal job constructing their case, but was ultimately undone by their Criterion of societal welfare which was refuted well by the AFF. The Neg had ample opportunities to win! The debate came down to the AFFs voters upheld through their Value of Societal welfare (Free Market isn't working, V, [C]).

- I agree that, if NEG's refutation of AFF case is to crossapply his whole case, then if AFF refutes NEG, AFF flows.
- The idea that paying for single payer through higher taxes and then complaining that I might not want it or need it seems odd to me. Nobody asked me if I wanted the police or the army. If we elevate health care to the same level, we have to shift the way we think about it.

RFD

- AFF started with the stronger case and managed to impact most of his contentions with strongly warranted refutations
- NEG: be careful not to let yourself get set up during CX. Some of your answers came back to haunt you.

- This was a tough round to judge. AFF's approach was a little different, and this created some problems for the NEG.
- In the NEG rebuttal, he claimed that AFF had not refuted much of NEG's attacks on the AFF case. On the flow, it looks that way; however, AFF adopted NEG's Value and criterion early in the round because he felt he could better uphold it. So while it looks like most of the debate took place on the NEG flow, it is actually the AFF moving his case over to show how AFF's world achieves NEG's vision.
- NEG: you tried to defend your case throughout; however, much of it became repetition instead of extension.

BRAD

THE GREATEST GOOD WAS YOUR BEST POINT. RELATING THE TOTAL NUMBER OF UNINSURED WAS A GOOD FOLLOW UP. GREAT QUESTION, "HOW DO YOU KNOW THE USA WOULD BE LIKE BRITAIN OR CANADA?" GOOD POINTS ABOUT OTHER UNFAIR TAXES. YOU REPEATED THE GREATEST GOOD POINT, WELL DONE. YOU PICKED UP THAT OPPONENT DID NOT CHALLENGE YOUR CONTENTIONS, WHICH YOU FOLLOWED WITH, "THEN HE MUST AGREE." THAT WAS A KEY POINT OF THE DEBATE. MAKE SURE TO LOOK AT THE JUDGE.

BRIAN

YOUR POINT ABOUT LIBERTY WAS THE STRONGEST. IT WOULD HAVE SERVED YOU WELL TO EXPAND THIS POINT. GOOD JOB ON BRINGING IN OTHER COUNTRIES TO SUPPORT YOUR POSITION. YOUR FREE MARKET ARGUMENT RELATING A TOY AND HEALTH CARE DID NOT MAKE YOUR POINT. YOUR POINT OF A LOT OF PEOPLE DO NOT WANT HEALTH CARE WAS UNCLEAR. YOU ARE A GREAT SPEAKER.

VOTE

BRAD WINS THE VOTE BECAUSE DID A BETTER JOB OF SAYING WHY HEALTH CARE WOULD BENEFIT THE MOST PEOPLE. BRIAN NEED TO STATE HOW THIS GOES AGAINST THE FOUNDING PRINCIPLES OF THE USA.

Ryan,

- Make more eye contact
- case should fill time
- I thought your VIC was very appropriate to the res, return to it more often in round!
- cite sources if you use stats
- Good link to rights, don't give neg ground by admitting multiple interpretations, show me that yours is right!
- Good job bringing things back to morality, try to bring up your value more often!

RFD:
Neg wins because aff didn't really prove that the government has an obligation. The link to rights in constitution/UN declaration fell apart with the admission of alternative definitions. Aff also did not defend against neg's attacks on the body of the case.

Good job to both!

1:30

Amande,

- polite questions in cx, don't face opponent, face judge.
- Good eye contact
- If you are going to use obama care talk a little more about what it does and why that's bad in your case
- Good roadmap
- Good ending with quote
- don't refer to opponent as "you"

cost point was good but aff was right that it's not really related unless you link it back to value.

Both,

1. Use your values! Tell me how each of your contentions relates to your value/criterion and make sure you contrast it with you opponents. In LD, the value is the most important thing.
2. Try to fill your time. Go back over your case and tell me why you are winning if you have extra.
